

UCL PSYCHOLOGY DEPARTMENT NEWSLETTER NO. 247

Monday 16 July 2007

CONGRATULATIONS

to Caswell Barry and Jon Machtynger on being awarded their PhDs to Fatos Berisha on the birth of a bouncing baby girl, Hana to Sarah Blakemore on being awarded a Royal Society University Research Fellowship of £525,347.12 for her project, 'Understanding intentions' to Beatriz Calvo on being awarded an ESRC Fellowship of £86,524.37 for her project, 'Ways of seeing others actions: visual and motor learning in social perception' to Chris Chambers on being awarded a BBSRC grant of £390,948.88 for his project, 'Multisensory dynamics of selective attention in the human brain: a combined neurodisruption and neuroimaging project' to Roi Cohen Kadosh on being awarded an EC fellowship of £107,415 for his project, 'Numerical Cognition – Does two equal 2? Notational representations in the human brain' under the supervision of Vincent Walsh to Jon Driver on being awarded a Royal Society Fellowship for his project, 'Attention and perception related to casual interactions in the human brain' to Emrah Duzel on being awarded a Wellcome Trust grant of £154,193 for his project, 'Dopaminergic and cholinergic neuromodulation of novelty encoding in humans' to Patrick Haggard on being awarded a Bial Foundation grant of £24,528 for his project, '"Out of body" and "in the body" experience: psychophysiology of bodily self-consciousness' to Patrick Haggard on being awarded a Royal Society Fellowship for his project, 'Human intentional action: brain mechanisms and conscious experience' to Patrick Haggard on being awarded a BBSRC grant of £4,000 for his project, 'Neural plasticity and the structure of mental body representations' to Helene Joffe on being awarded £1,018,167 with Tiziana Rossetto (Civil and Environmental Engineering, UCL) by the EPSRC to set up EPICENTRE - the Earthquake and People Interaction Centre.

to Hui-Yi Lo on winning the Graduate School poster competition for Life Sciences for her poster, 'Insight into compulsive buying: A new exploration of purchase judgments and decision making in addictive buying behaviour' to Nancy Pistrang, Chris Barker and Sue Gessler on being awarded a Cancer Research UK grant of £31,646 for their project, 'Women helping women: peer support in gynaecological cancer' to Jenni Rodd on the birth of a bouncing baby boy, Thomas to Catherine Sebastian whose article entitled 'The second decade: What can we do about the adolescent brain?' was published in the Spring 2007 issue of UCL's journal *Opticon*1826. You can read the article at: http://www.ucl.ac.uk/ics/opticon1826/Volume1Issue2/TableOfContents/VfPLIFE_Teenagers.pdf and access the journal at: <http://www.ucl.ac.uk/ics/opticon1826>.'

to Hugo Spiers on being awarded a Wellcome Trust Advanced Training Fellowship of £230,410 for his project, 'Prefrontal and hippocampal contributions to goal coding during navigation' working with Kate Jeffery to Gabriella Vigliocco on being awarded an EU grant of £334,517.40 for her project, 'ABSTRACT – The Origins, Representation and Use of Abstract Concepts' and to Vincent Walsh on being awarded a Royal Society grant of £12,000 for his project, 'The neural basis of spatial navigation in humans: a TMS study'

UNDERGRADUATE EXAM SUCCESS

At the recent Exam Board, 28 final year students were awarded first class honours, 61 were awarded upper second class honours and 2 were awarded lower second class honours. Regarding the Intercalating Medics, 5 were awarded first class honours, and 18 upper second class honours. Congratulations to all concerned.

NEXT NEWSLETTER

Next Newsletter will appear as and when necessary. Contributions welcome from all.